

Complaints and Appeals Policy

1. Purpose

The Complaints and Appeals Policy (“policy”) establishes a framework for managing and resolving complaints and appeals from students on academic and administrative matters. The Institution makes a genuine attempt to resolve genuine complaints and appeals, through consistent and fair application of policies and procedures without retribution. This policy should be read in conjunction with the Complaints and Appeals Procedures.

2. Scope

This policy applies to all prospective students and currently enrolled students, and to staff administering complaints and appeal requests. This policy also applies to delivery arrangements with other parties, which are quality assured by the Institution.

3. Definitions

See Glossary of Terms.

4. Policy statements

4.1 Complaints and appeals processes are equitable, easily accessible to all students, fair, timely, and free from cost to students.

4.2 Complaints and appeals are handled with courtesy, confidentiality and without fear of prejudicial treatment.

4.3 The Institution endeavours to make all prospective students, enrolled students and staff aware of this policy. Students receive information about the complaints and appeals process prior to admission, during orientation programs, and via the Institution’s website. A student’s right to lodge a complaint or appeal is also outlined in specific policies and procedures published in the Policy Library.

4.4 Students are entitled to lodge a complaint (first step) about any academic or administrative matter, including (but not limited to):

- the conduct and performance of staff;

- services and facilities provided by or managed by the Institution;
- dealings with the Institution's International Representatives (agents), homestay providers, welfare providers or other related parties;
- conduct and performance of other students;
- review of a decision made by the Institution;
- failure to adhere to relevant policies and procedures
- Students are entitled to lodge an appeal (second step) normally in the following circumstances:
 - failure to provide natural justice or procedural fairness;
 - where the decision is inconsistent with a published policy or procedures;
 - where there are new or different grounds and/or supporting evidence to those already considered by the original decision maker;
 - the penalty was not commensurate to the incident; and/or
 - on other reasonable grounds, as determined on a case by case by the Chair of the Appeals Committee, beyond the above.

4.5 Provision to request a review of an academic matter (e.g. final grade for a subject or assessment) is provided in the Student Review of Assessment Results Procedures. Requests of this nature will not be dealt with under this policy unless all avenues within the Student Review of Assessment Results Procedures have been exhausted.

4.6 Students must act responsibly when deciding to lodge a complaint or appeal. All, complaints must be supported by documentary evidence. It is a student's responsibility to engage with the process, provide all necessary documentation to ensure the Institution can investigate the matter adequately. Vexatious or malicious complaints and appeals are examples of non-academic misconduct and will be dealt with in accordance with the General Misconduct Policy and General Misconduct Procedures.

4.7 A complaint lodged by a former student more than six months after completing their studies is not normally considered. Exceptions to this rule are made in exceptional circumstances only (e.g. FEE-HELP re-credit). A delay in lodging can affect the Institution's ability to investigate the matter.

4.8 Students who lodge a complaint or appeal will not suffer any reprisal as a result.

4.9 In considering a complaint or appeal, the Institution will ensure the following principles of procedural fairness are adhered to:

- complaints and appeals are appropriately investigated;
- decisions are made and communicated in a timely manner;
- decisions are taken without bias; and
- decisions are based on evidence.

4.10 Students who lodge a complaint or appeal will have their enrolment maintained while the process is ongoing, unless a student's health or safety is at risk, or where the student poses a health or safety risk to others.

4.11 Students are entitled to seek an external and/or legal review of a complaint or appeal at any time.

4.12 A student involved in a complaint or appeal has the right to formally present their case. He/she may be assisted or accompanied by a support person during meetings and interviews, but may not have legal representation.

4.13 A student may withdraw their complaint or appeal in writing at any time. The Institution may opt to investigate or refer nevertheless.

4.14 Any anonymous comments and feedback can be provided through the ICMS App.

4.15 The Institution may refer complaints of a criminal nature to the NSW Police.

4.16 The Institution uses the outcomes of the complaints and appeals process to generate preventative improvements that aim to prevent the recurrence of similar issues.
